Graphic Work Experience

Q LTD

I am a graphic design intern at Q LTD, working with print, logo design, web graphics, simple animation, and other various design projects.

Hook Studios

January 2011 - April 2011

I worked as an interactive designer in producing mobile Flash applications. Working closely with a coworker, we produced a Flash game that let you create and customize your own digital fruit. The project is set to be completed by the end of summer 2011.

MSuite

February 2010 - Present

As a designer for MSuite, I produced the user-interface graphics for an iOS mobile version of CTools, which is the University of Michigan's campus wide homework and collaborative website, as well as a WordPress website for the MSuite team. The application was sold to the University and is set to be released in the fall of 2011.

TEDxUofM

TEDxUofM is an independent version of the TED conferences on the University of Michigan Campus. For the event, I created motion graphics, event posters, the event's website, laser cut advertisements, as well as being in charge of photography and helping out with other various needs.

Al Dente Pasta Company

September 2010 - December 2010

This project was technically part of a class, but the entire semester we worked closely on rebranding the entire company. Our design team created logos, stationary, posters, package labels, illustrations and shirt designs.

Jim Cogswell

January 2010 - April 2010

I worked with a previous professor to convert handmade cutout illustrations into vector files in Illustrator CS3. The project is currently on display along the Mott Children's Hospital windows in Ann Arbor, Michigan.

Consider Magazine is a point for point debate magazine at the University of Michigan, for which I created a WordPress website template.

University of Michigan Developmental Summer Internship Program

UM D-SIP provides summer internships through various departments on the University of Michigan campus. I created new designs for their two-fold fliers and small bus posters.
